REBEL NEWS -The Confederate Senate has passed a bill raising the postage on single letters to ten cents, and the House a bill probibiting the sale of cotton, enger, and tohacco to the enemy. The Richmond Dispatch says that McClellen is waiting for iron-clad gnnboats to take Richmond by way of James river, and cries ont that cbstructions be sunk as the only means of preven hy the gunboate, on James river. A despatch from Richmond says the report by a forage train is, that Stonewali Jackson feli back before overwhelming forces, and was in fall retreat toward Staunton. Forly rebels were taken prisoners. It is supposed Jackson wouldn't make a stand before Waynesboro.

The Savannah News says there was a skirmish at White Marsh island, between companies of the 13th Georgia regiment and a Michigan regiment in which the latter were repulsed with a ioss of twenty men. The rebei ioss was five killed and seven wounded. Twenty rebel soldiers were kliied and slx wonnded at Green, Tannessee, by a railroad accident. The Richmond papers prononnce the Yankee accounts of the battle of Shiloh a tissus of the grossest falsehoods. They deny that Beanregard's arm was shot off.

A CORPS OF ARMY SURGEONS, -- Experince hes proved that the two Surgeons allowed to each regiment are inenfficient to give that care and attention to the wounded that is necessary after a great hattle has been fought. The Indiana State while paying off a large emonnt of old liabilities. By the report of the Audlier you will see that the Sentinel says that, with a view to remedy this defect so far as Indiana troops are concerned. Gov. Morton has commenced making appointments for a corps of army Surgeons, who will Immediately proceed to the field of Shiloh and report for active duty. Two additional assistant Surgeons will he appointed for each regiment, and as Indiana hes now twenty-four regiments in that vicinity the number of Surgeons to be appointed will be fortyeight. It is thought that four Sorgeons to a regiment will be ample to dress the wounds on the field should another fight occur, and also care for those of our sick and wounded in the regimental and post hospitals. This action on the part of of Gov. Morton will meet with the hearty ap proval of the hnmane everywhere.

Brigadier-General W. H. L. Wailace who fell in the battle of Pittsburg Landing, served in the Mexican war as Adjutant of Hardiu's regi ment, and was near to that lemented officer when he fell at Buena Vista. When the rebelllon broke out, Gen. Wallace was among the first to enliet, and wavelected Coionel of the 11th Illinois regiment. During the summer he was Acting Brigadier-General, and commending the post at Bird's Point most of the time. At the battle at Fort Donelson he was Acting Brigadler, and In command of a brigade, and was in the hottest of the battle. Il was promoted to a Brigndier Generalabip for his gallantry in that bettle Gen. Wellece, in bls return from Mexico, married the danghter of Cal. T. L. The deep concern which the English jour nals manifest about the American cuirassed ships serves to enliven the wit of the French jonrosis. They point out to the now trembling English nation how, if they had pushed on the war about Mason and Slidell, the little Monitor would here snuk their whole American fise'; and bow, if they desire to be ready for the Americans at the end of the civil war, they must at once transform their whole fieet, at an expense of hundreds of

That portion i lying between First and Fourth etreets is almost impassable; the earth filling has become compact, and a portion may now he advantageously graded and paved without the least risk of it a sinking. The high weter has aettled every part of it thoroughly, and there is earth enough in the portion referred to, if properly distributed, to give the wharf a good grade. I recommend that this grading be immediately commenced and carried for ward as far as the earth on Beargrass will allow, by which means the water will be drained off. This will cost but a small sum, and the wharf will he thus placed in a good condition for receiving its paving material. The sewer through Seemal connected with the street pavement. Brigadier General T. L. Criticules, commanding Fifth Division of the Army of the Ohio.

Division of the Army of the Ohto:

GENERAL: At a late hour on the night of the 5th inst., I disembeshed the four regiments of my command from the fiset of boats at Pittsburg anding, on the Tennessee River, and by your order marched heyond the creat of the hill, forming into line of battle in the rear of the forces of Brigadier General Nelson, the whole force restreg on their arms during the slight, in a drenching ain. At a fow minutes efter b o'clock A. M. of he 7th last, by your crder, i moved my brigade, sking position in the centre, the movement of sking position in the centre, the inovement of he whole force in your command being directed by you in person, forming on the right of Gen. Yelson, who occupied the extreme ieft. General Nelson, who occapied the extreme left. General McCook's Division soon came up and ccapied our right in the line of attack. The forces of the Fifth Division formed into line of battle in front of the enemy under your immediate orders, along the centre, the Fourteenth bright thrown slightly in edvance on the left ende of the centre. The Nineteenth Ohio, Colonel Beatty, formed the right of my brigade, the Thirteenth Kentucky, Colonel Hobsen, the centre, and the Ninth Kentucky, Colonel Grider, on the left, wilth the Fifty-ninth Ohio, Colonel Fyffs, in the rear as a supporting leserye. In passurance of with the ritty-finith Onlo, Colonel Ryite, in rear as a supporting teserve. In passuance orders we marched steadily forward upon centre, the Feurteenth brigade being still in varce on my left. I halted my command in si of the open field in front of the right wing of brigade, and by order of General Buell, given person, I then forwarded four flanking compriof the Mineteenth Ohio and Thirtsenth Kentucky as skirmlshers to advance to the open field or to where the skirmlshers could fiel and engage the enemy, or await the advance of our line. After capturing a prisoner and sending him in, the skirmlshing companies of the Nineteenth Ohio were fired upon and driven back. I trdered up Colonel Beatty, of the Nineteenth Ohio, to take position slong the edge of the open field to repel the advarce of the enemy in that direction. At this durative the enemy in read that forces in the direction.

trect, adds:

While we believe that the Democratic organization of the Nor h will be the nucleus of the Natlonal party of the country, it is not possible nor politic that old party lines should be drawn. There are men in the Republican Party who are national not sectional, and men identified with no party, who must be colleted in the cause of the Union against the Northern revolutionists and disappoints.

The same Democratic journal, copying sah follows:

The great object which is apparmost in the menunic, and row that the army is declared to be large enough to complete its mission, and the empression of armed rehalilon is only a question of time, the next duty of loyal Northam men is to put down at the hillot bex the revolutionary, there is a district the control of t nion politicians at homa. This is the right spirit, and we believe it is the spirit which pervades the Democratic ranks.

The general manifestation of this liberal spirit is the first step toward the accomplishment ef the end in view, and will make feasible if not easy all the other necessary steps.

The next step, in our opinion, is, as we have said before, the organization of a great constitutional party, on the hasis of what is common allke to Democrats, National Republicans, and Conservatives who are neither, thereby embodying the whole conservativo force of the North, and not merely putting the defeat of radicalism beyond the reach of doubt, but turning the defeat into annihilation, crushing out radicalism, grinding it to powder, and sweeping it away. This end clearly must be accompliahed in some way, if the Union is to be re-established, be dectual at all. We again commend the constitutions guaranteeing private rights and suggestion to the earnest consideration of the Northern conser. httpes. We respectfully urge it npon their consideration. Northern radicalism must be put down: The task is comhined inseparably with 313 great work of reestablishing the government.

The 23d of last September was the "last day of grace" accorded by the rebel leaders of the Confederate States to the Union men resit done within their limits. After that day they Davis's proclamation of August 14th, which doclared that all persons adhering to the Government of the United States, and acknowledging the authority of the same, and not heing citizens of the Confederate States, should leave in forty days. At the expiration of that period, District Attorneys, Marshals, and other officers, were charged to make complaint against any aliens coming into the States, and the courts were directed to order the removal of all such aliens heyond the territory of the Confederate States, and in case of non-com pliance they wore to bo held 'in strict custody until the final order of the court, taking special care that such aliens obtain no information that could possibly be made useful to the In the face of this cruel and tyrannical edict andacity to complain when the Federal government has made arrests to prevent the aiders and abettors of treason from overturning its authority and rending the Union into fragments? this respect it is its leniency to those who have supplied the rehels with munitions of war and even served in the Confederate armies. We msy see almost daily men walking in our etreets whose complicity with the rehellion is notorious, and if it were not so, their own boastful asseverations would prove it. We southern part of the State and the abstraction sum; for the use of the rebellion, though it may have been a flagrant caso of robbery for their private emolnment. The whole city is cognizant of the fact that men, who have held commissions and borne arms in the rebel cause, have returned among ns with impunity and are following their avocations as if they known to our laws, and the only one whose definition is fixed by our constitution, which those professing friendship and loyalty to the this can intrinsically have no general political a kise, and now, instead of going out and hanging themselves, are flaunting their ill-gotten price of blood and carnage, and boasting their gains at street corners and in private. There are those among as also who own and control public avenues of information, which have for the last year heen made largely subsidiary to the robel cause, and heen the means of imparting "information useful The Union still rests upon the same impregto the enemy," and now they are allowed the nable natural hasis. No doubt the war has in peaceful possession of their property, and are part destroyed the sense and perception of the making their profits from our loyal armies and community of interests. It has no doubt our loyal citizens. All these classes which we springs and the foundation-stones of the North alike meant that it should. These an rebellion, for they furnished it with the tipathics and resentments will blind many sinews of war or their own sinews and minds to the true interests and daties of both strength. We have no feelings of mercy for sections; but the facts still remain unchanged, such as these; they went into the game of and most of them will remnin as long as natreason, knowing how high the stake was they three and its laws hold on their steady and perrisked, and coolly calculating the chances of petual course. success. Wo will only inquire now what are the COM-NON INTERESTS upon which the Union rests as a part of its foundation.

1. The Northern and Southern States alike are interested in the same natural highways of internal commerce. The Mississippi, Missouri, and Ohio rivers, with other navigable to say on this head, returns to the subject as streams flowing directly or indirectly into the Father of Waters, hind the Union together as with hars and hooks of silver. Every intelligent person will at onco recall the names of the respective classes. 3. All the States have a common interest and we perceive no other way so effectual as in the Republican system of government. All the one we have suggested, we, indeed, par- have adopted as States the principle of the ceive no other peaceable way that promises to sovereignty of the people. All have written libarties. All are a common object of jealous and somity to the monarchical establishments of Europe. There is indeed no just ceason for this; since our government is not formed for the propagation of Republican principles, but simply for the purpose of our own safety and favor of a personal interview, we shall he hapwelfare. The sickly cant of some American demagogues now in power ahout "human rights" may give some color of plausihility to the saspicious of foreign Governments; hut the say orusado against the established civil justitutious.

If the two systems of labor occupied precisely the same territory, they would sometimes conflict with each other. But when they operate in different spheres, there is not the least necessity of collision. It is true, one of these systems fosters an absurd declares that treason shall "consist only in contempt for physical labor, which is a partial levying war against the United States or in ad- inconvenience in social intercourse. To the men wounded in our sacrilegious war. Therefore, tear down the church hell. What need of bells on our plantations when our slaves are being run off, or are running off themselves? What need of bells on our steamboats or locomotives when the Union heroes are capturing them? What need of bells in hotels, when we have neither hotels nor food?

As to hells to strike the hours, we have no desire to know how we have ahused Time, nor 2. There are how Time has abused and hurdened ns. ports on the Southern coast, in which many Our school-houses are closed; our factories Northern States unavoidably have au immense are shut; our very gambling-saloons deserted, not for the lack of customers, hut for the lack of coin-what need we of hells for these?"

Wo have from a Gallatin (Tenn.) lady a long letter, which, after ahusing us as roundly as only a woman can, closes thus:

But, enough; my heart sickens in a utempla-tion of such a demon as you. One consolation, however, abides with the certain raward which not always yearn for its promised elements; as he wailings of the damned rise upon that liquid flame, the loudest, deepest, longest wail, the m st pltying plaint of wos, the hitterest utlerances of emerse, will issue from the lost epirit of Geo. D rentice. MINNIE MINDEN.

"Minnic Miaden" is a pretty name. There is poetry in it. If "Minnie" will grant us the py to talk ever with her the subject-matter of her letter calmly and dispassionately. One thing is evident-she expects, that, when our wailings shall noat over the waves of hell, she will be near enough to enjoy the music. Third street, one bundred feet is width, is extended, leading up directly to the ilouse of Rafuge, and is nearly completed, and when it is opened, a delightful drive will be hed, upou which avenuss it is contempiated to rnn on omnibus line within a few days. with a bope that at some future slay, after a cettiemest of our political trosbles, a borse railway, water and gas pipes will be extanded out to the bouse and pnik.

The outley, all told, up to this time, upon the buildings, Park, and avesuss, will not exceed $40,000; and the managers cordially invite all who feel on interest in this necessary and benevoient institution, and the free cm of the park, that their names for the sum of $5 be subscribed in books left at the Journal office; elso at the offices of the Gns Co. and Water Co. where a beantiful lithographed design of the Park and House of Refuge mey beseen.

The Perk, when the design is fully carried out, will equal anything of its kind in the Western conntry. The walks, drives, an i lakes are laid ent with rare taste, end, as a combination, cannot fail to make it a place of surpssting beanty and loveliness. DEATH OF A YOUNG HERO. - We are pained to announce the death of Simpson Stont, son of Lieut. Col. A. M. Stout, of this city. The sad event occurred at the residence of D. II. Cowan, Eq., on yesterday. The decessed was a soldier in the Seventeenth Kentucky Regiment, and was wounded in the battie of Sbiich. Both father and son were wounded about the seme time in the same engagement, and the scn was brought to s city by the steamer Marergo on Tuesday. eased was in the nineteenth year of his age, but bere the fatiguee of the march, incurred the dangers of the battle field, and enffered under the afflicting hand of lrjury and disease with the cooinces and fortitude of a veteran. The noble father and stricken mother have the syc pathles of sincere friends. The fueeral will take place from the Welnut Street Meth dist Church at four o'ciock this afternoon.

As the lives of women and children and the security of trade have been greatly endangered, on one or two occasions recently, on the Lonisville end Nashville Railrosd, General Dymont has issued a stringent order to his officers in regard to these offences against humanity. We thank the General beartily in behalf of the public. It is precisely what was needed. There is no use in throwing grase at such offenders on those referred to In this order. It is the intention of Ger. Dumont to cut up the business of bridge-burning, track-ripping, and wire-cutting by the roots.

The public will be pieased to learn that the ladies and gentlemen, who a few weeks ago, gave, for the benafit of the Volunteer Aid Fund. those beantiful entertalnments, which filled Masonic Temple with delighted sp:cuiators, have generously agreed to present an enterteinment next Thesdey evening for the henefit of the San itary Commission of this city. copration of the proper military anthorities, we have undertaken to supply the soldiers in the militery hospitals and convelescent harracks in this city with religious reading. There are now here a very large number of cick, wouceded, and convalescent men; end as the summer advances the number will probably ircrease rather than dimloish. These men are from home and among strangers. They ere almost without society, and ere alweys enrounded by disease and sufferieg. If the mind, in such circumstances, he left muccupied, it preys upon itself, the spirite flag, and a very great hinderence is placed in the way of recovery. Members of the medical staff have expressed the opinion that a tract or result and the soldiers in the soldiers of the medical staff have expressed the opinion that a tract or result always of high result and the soldiers in the soldiers of the medical staff have expressed the opinion that a tract or result always of high result and the soldiers in the soldiers of the medical staff have expressed the opinion that a tract or result always of high results and the soldiers in the one should be mide to dig coal in the serving ingular to did so in the should be mide to dig coal in the serving ingular, the poor wounded were placed as in the total coal in the serving in the soldiers of the scale of the coal and the sum of the soldiers. There are now in the coal and the worms festering and feeding in their undersed wounds. There are now in the coal and the worms festering and feeding in the towork at Irades, and one should be did coal to di of recovery. Members of the medical staff have expressed the opinion that a tract or small volume of high moral tone, piaced every day in the hands of those eble to read, would, eimply as a remedial agent, be of incalculable value. But many of these men are members of Christian Churches. They long for the religions literature which once furthered their grawth in grace, and prompted them to fidelity, and the loss of which mey have been the occasion of many an apostacy. Others, sgain, in lerge nombers, are peculially ansceptible to religious impressions. The Immorelities of the camp, the perils of the bettle-field, the scenes of sickness, mutiletion and death in the bespital, make deep impressions. Many a poor penitent may hors be recaimed or had bope in our Savicur.
